Introducing Enlighten Customer Training Center

Salesforce.com Integration

Introducing a new learning tool from Envisiontel for customers looking to maximize their ROI on client training solutions. The Enlighten Customer Training Center was designed to help customers create, deploy and manage learning content designed for customer implementation and training. Whether you offer training for free or charge for it, our solution provides all the tools necessary to effectively manage learner progress within your training framework. By integrating our solution with Salesforce.com, existing Salesforce.com customers can recognize even stronger efficiencies by authenticating access to proprietary training material against existing customer records in your CRM application. All student records such as grades, data access, completion records and time stamps are passed back to Salesforce.com for enterprise reporting and dashboard analysis.
